MASQUE

The Masque is a surprising piece of furniture that, despite its slight extravagance, can work well in almost any environment. It is true to its name in that its opulence is easily disguised and its final appearance is dependent almost entirely upon your choice of finery. If you select a neutral or a grey fabric it can look restrained and thoroughly modern, in a calm pattern it looks timeless and in a bright velvet it seems romantic and engaging. It is fantastic as a window seat or distinctive room divider, is great in hallways where space is limited or in a kitchen as a compact extra seat. It also works really well as an end of bed settle and can be made almost the same width as your bed. You can select the leg timber, either ash, oak, or walnut and any colour of stain or leave it natural if you prefer. The seat is firm but comfortable, perfect for perching and optional bolsters are available on request.
